

Bluewave Energy is Canada's largest Shell distributor of bulk fuels and high quality lubricants. Bluewave has been serving customers since 2005 and became the largest brand in the Parkland Fuel Corporation family in early 2010. Becoming part of the Parkland family means that Bluewave has greater access to supply, expanded delivery fleets and more customer service staff available to help you. Being a part of a larger company has not changed Bluewave's localized service with responsive and timely deliveries. Our commitment to excellent customer service, product availability and on-site delivery has made us an industry leader with 57 locations across Canada. This enables Bluewave to respond to the needs of local markets and unique customers requirements.
